AN ONLINE SOLUTION FOR CLAIMS PROFESSIONALS

If you handle claims for your own company or on behalf of corporate clients, the challenge is to reduce costs and time delays. The solution is to manage and access live claims data on a web based system wherever you are in the world. Claimsuite has been developed to automate your claims administration to improve client service, increase claims capacity and reduce the claim lifecycle.

Developed over 10 years ago, and constantly evolving to meet the needs of claims professionals, Claimsuite is a leading example of web based technology for the 21st century.

By putting the user at the forefront of our design, all the search and reporting facilities have been designed to allow for "plain English" a proven function loved by users.

If you are providing services for third parties, the screens can be customized to meet specific demands allowing your company to develop a highly personalized service and assisting in building close links between your clients and any specific requirements they might have

The advantage of live "real-time" access from any where in the world and from as many users as required ensures that data held on Claimsuite will stay fresh. Clients will feel secure that they can check their information as and when they require it and without heed to global time constraints. Access levels can be set for every aspect of the system. Those who need to see can, and yet security is guaranteed for sensitive data.

Multi-currency issues are all resolved within Claimsuite, as there are unlimited exchange capabilities built into the system. Claimsuite will adjust to any parameters you wish to set, and the reports can be provided in specific currencies using any conversion rate you choose to specify.
